Update on the power outages caused by the wildfires in Attica

HEDNO wishes to inform that multiple power outages are currently impacting areas in Attica affected by the ongoing wildfires.

As the fires continue to advance in most areas, a more detailed announcement will be issued once our crews can safely access these regions for inspection, damage assessment, and Network restoration.

The staff of HEDNO and its partner companies have been on standby since the outbreak of yesterday's wildfires. Over 350 technicians in NE Attica are fully prepared to begin restoration work to reconnect power supply in the affected areas as quickly as possible. Depending on how the fires develop, additional crews from other parts of the country are also on standby to assist.
